1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND STATEMENT OF POLICY.

2 (a) Congress makes the following findings:

3 (1) The United States has consistently sought
 4 to advance peace and stability in East Asia as a central 5 element of U.S. foreign policy toward the region.

6 (2) Peace and stability in East Asia has provided 7 the necessary environment for the tremendous 8 economic growth experienced by the region and remains 9 critical to the continued development and 10 prosperity of all people in the Indo-Pacific.

11 (3) The Taiwan Relations Act of 1979 (Public 12 Law 96–8; 22 U.S.C. 3301 et seq.) and the “Six Assurances”, 13 provided by the United States to Taiwan
 14 in July 1982, are the cornerstones of U.S.-Taiwan

1 relations and continue to guide U.S. policy toward 2 Taiwan.

3 (4) The Taiwan Relations Act states that it is 4 the policy of the United States to—

5 “(A) preserve and promote extensive, close,
6 and friendly commercial, cultural, and other re-
7 lations between the people of the United States
8 and the people on Taiwan, as well as the people 9 on the China mainland and all other peoples of 10 the Western Pacific area;

11 “(B) declare that peace and stability in the 12 area are in the political, security, and economic 13 interests of the United States, and are matters 14 of international concern;

15 “(C) make clear that the United States de-16 cision to establish diplomatic relations with the 17 People’s Republic of China rests upon the ex-
18 pectation that the future of Taiwan will be de-19 termined by peaceful means;

20 “(D) consider any effort to determine the 21 future of Taiwan by other than peaceful means, 22 including by boycotts or embargoes, a threat to 23 the peace and security of the Western Pacific 24 area and of grave concern to the United States;

1           “(E) provide Taiwan with arms of a defen-2           sive character; and

3           “(F) maintain the capacity of the United 4           States to resist any resort to force or other 5           forms of coercion that would jeopardize the se-6           curity, or the social or economic system, of the 7           people on Taiwan.”.

8           (5) The Government of the People’s Republic of 9           China (PRC), especially since the election of Tsai
10          Ing-Wen in 2016, has conducted a coordinated cam-
11          paign to weaken Taiwan diplomatically, economi-12          cally, and militarily in a manner that threatens to 13          erode U.S. policy and create a fait accompli on ques-
14          tions surrounding Taiwan’s future.

15          (6) In order to ensure the longevity of U.S. pol-
16          icy and preserve the ability of the people of Taiwan
17          to determine their future independently, it is nec-18          essary to reinforce Taiwan’s diplomatic, economic, 19          and physical space.

20          (b) It is the policy of the United States to—

21               (1) maintain the position that peace and sta-
22               bility in the Western Pacific are in the political, se-23               curity, and economic interests of the United States, 24               and are matters of international concern; and

1           (2) work with allies and partners to promote 2       peace and stability in the Indo-Pacific and deter 3       military acts or other forms of coercive behavior that 4       would undermine regional stability.

5 TITLE I—SUPPORTING TAIWAN’S
6 MEANINGFUL       PARTICIPA-
7 TION IN THE INTERNATIONAL
8 COMMUNITY

9 SEC. 101. FINDINGS.

10       Congress makes the following findings:

11           (1) Taiwan has provided monetary, humani-
12       tarian, and medical assistance to combat diseases
13       such as AIDS, tuberculosis, Ebola, and dengue fever 14       in countries around the world. During the COVID– 15       19 pandemic, Taiwan donated millions of pieces of 16       personal protective equipment and COVID–19 tests 17       to countries in need.

18           (2) Since 2016, the Gambia, Sao Tome and 19       Principe, Panama, the Dominican Republic, Burkina 20       Faso, El Salvador, the Solomon Islands, and 21       Kiribati have severed diplomatic relations with Tai-22       wan in favor of diplomatic relations with China.

23           (3) Taiwan was invited to participate in the 24       World Health Assembly, the decision-making body of 25       the World Health Organization (WHO), as an ob-

1 server annually between 2009 and 2016. Since the 2 2016 election of President Tsai, the PRC has in-3 creasingly resisted Taiwan's participation in the 4 WHA. Taiwan was not invited to attend the WHA
5 in 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, or 2021.

6 (4) The Taipei Flight Information Region re-
7 portedly served 1.75 million flights and 68.9 million
8 passengers in 2018 and is home to Taiwan Taoyuan 9 International airport, the eleventh busiest airport in 10 the world. Taiwan has been excluded from partici-
11 pating at the International Civil Aviation Organiza-
12 tion (ICAO) since 2013.

13 (5) United Nations (UN) General Assembly
14 Resolution 2758 does not address the issue of rep-15 resentation of Taiwan and its people at the United 16 Nations, nor does it give the PRC the right to rep-
17 resent the people of Taiwan.

18 SEC. 102. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON TAIWAN'S MEANINGFUL
19 PARTICIPATION IN THE INTERNATIONAL
20 COMMUNITY.

21 It is the sense of Congress that—

22 (1) Taiwan is free, democratic, and prosperous, 23 and is home to 23.5 million people. It is an impor-
24 tant contributor to the global community, as a model 25 for democracy, and by providing expertise in global

1 health, international aviation security, emerging 2 technology development, and with forward looking 3 environmental policies;

4 (2) multiple United States Government admin-
5 istrations of both political parties have taken impor-
6 tant steps to advance Taiwan's meaningful partici-
7 pation in international organizations;

8 (3) existing efforts to enhance U.S. cooperation
9 with Taiwan to provide global public goods, includ-
10 ing through development assistance, humanitarian 11 assistance, and disaster relief in trilateral and multi-12 lateral fora is laudable and should continue;

13 (4) nonetheless, significant structural, policy,
14 and legal barriers remain to advancing Taiwan's 15 meaningful participation in the international com-16 munity; and

17 (5) efforts to share Taiwan's expertise with 18 other parts of the global community could be further 19 enhanced through a systematic approach, along with 20 greater attention from Congress and the American 21 public to such efforts.

1 SEC. 103. STRATEGY TO SUPPORT TAIWAN'S MEANINGFUL
2 PARTICIPATION IN INTERNATIONAL ORGANI-
3 ZATIONS.

8 gressional committees a strategy—

10 tion in a prioritized set of international organiza-11 tions (IOs); and

12 (2) that responds to growing pressure from the

3 to identify likeminded allies and partners who 4 might become public or private partners in the 6 (C) A systematic analysis of all IOs, as 7 practicable, to identify IOs that best lend them-8 selves to advancing Taiwan's participation. The 9 analysis shall include, but is not limited to the 10 IOs'—

11 (i) policy on the requirements to ob-

14 ing membership requirements and observer
15 status within the IO;

23 nal decision making.

25 visability of expanding economic, security, and

1 diplomatic engagement with nations that have

4 with U.S. interests.

5 (E) A survey of IOs that have allowed Tai-6 wan's meaningful participation, including an as-7 sessment of whether any erosion in Taiwan's 8 engagement has occurred within those organiza-
9 tions and how Taiwan's participation has posi-10 tively strengthened the capacity and activity of 11 these organizations, thereby providing positive 12 models for Taiwan's inclusion in other similar 13 forums.

14 (F) A list of no more than 20 IOs at which 15 the U.S. Government will prioritize for using its 20 in paragraph (1)(C).

13 NOMIC RELATIONS WITH TAIWAN.

14 It is the sense of the Congress that—

15 (1) expanding U.S. economic relations with Tai-16 wan has benefited the people of both the United 17 States and Taiwan. Taiwan is now the United States
18 10th largest goods trading partner, 13th largest ex-19 port market, 13th largest source of imports, and a 20 key destination for U.S. agricultural exports;

21 (2) further integration, consistent with robust
22 environmental standard and labor rights, would ben-23 efit both peoples and is in the strategic and diplo-24 matic interests of the United States; and

1           (3) the United States should explore opportuni-
2           ties to expand economic agreements between Taiwan
3           and the United States, through dialogue, and by de-4           veloping the legal templates required to support po-
5           tential future agreements.

6   SEC. 202. LEGAL FRAMEWORK FOR EXPANDING ECONOMIC 7                           RELATIONS WITH TAIWAN.

8           (a) IN GENERAL.—No later than 180 days following
9           the date of enactment of this Act, the United States Trade
10          Representative, in consultation with other Federal depart-

12          appropriate congressional committees a legal template for 13          establishing trade and investment agreements with Tai-14          wan that is consistent with the nature of the United States

17          of trade and investment agreements.

22          In this title, the term “appropriate congressional 23          committees” means—

1 (1) the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and the 2 Committee on Ways and Means of the House of

7 DETERRENCE OVER TAIWAN

8 SEC. 301. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON PEACE AND STABILITY
9 IN THE TAIWAN STRAIT.

10 It is the sense of Congress that—

11 (1) the United States should continue to pursue 12 a policy of promoting peace in the Indo-Pacific for 13 the benefit of the peoples of Asia and of the United 14 States;

15 (2) maintaining peace and stability in the Tai-16 wan Strait is in the national security interest of the 17 United States;

18 (3) PRC attempts to intimidate Taiwan, includ-
19 ing through high rates of PRC sorties into air space
20 near Taiwan, and PRC amphibious assault exercises
21 near Taiwan, jeopardizes the long-standing U.S. po-22 sition that differences in cross-Strait relations must 23 be resolved peacefully;

24 (4) given the potential for a cross-Strait conflict 25 to be highly destructive and destabilizing, any in-

1       crease in the risk of conflict demands attention and 2       obligates leaders to reinforce deterrence, as the most 3       viable means to prevent war;

4           (5) the United States should work with allies
5       and partners to expand the community of partners
6       involved in building a credible deterrent toward a
7       cross-Strait conflict;

8           (6) Taiwan should continue to invest in and im-
9       plement its asymmetric defense strategy, including 10      but not limited to coastal defense cruise missiles, 11      while also strengthening recruitment and training of 12      its reserve force; and 13          (7) while enhancing deterrence, it is also essen-

14      tial to maintain open and effective crisis communica-15      tion and risk reduction mechanisms as a means to 16      reduce the risk of misunderstanding and ultimately, 17      conflict.

18   SEC. 302. STRATEGY TO ENHANCE DETERRENCE OVER A
19                   CROSS-STRAIT CONFLICT.

20          (a) IN GENERAL.—No later than 90 days after the 21      date of enactment of this Act, the President shall submit 22      to the appropriate congressional committees a whole-of-23      government strategy to enhance deterrence over a cross-24      Strait military conflict between the PRC and Taiwan.

1 (b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The strategy shall 2 include:

3 (1) A comprehensive review of existing diplo-
4 matic, economic, and military tools to establish de-5 terrence over a cross-Strait conflict and an assess-6 ment of their efficacy.

7 (2) An examination of the present and future
8 capabilities of the United States and Taiwan to re-9 spond to the potential PLA campaigns against Tai-10 wan in 5, 10, and 15 years. The analysis shall in-11 clude an assessment of the progress Taiwan has 12 made in developing the asymmetric capabilities need-13 ed to respond to its strategic environment, as well as 14 the additional capabilities and reforms required.

15 (3) An evaluation of the feasibility of expanding
16 coordination with U.S. allies and partners to en-
17 hance deterrence over a cross-Strait conflict. The re-18 view shall include, but is not limited to, a review of 19 the following matters:

20 (A) Expanding coordination of public or 21 private messaging on deterrence vis-à-vis Tai-22 wan.

23 (B) Coordinating use of economic tools to 24 raise the costs of PRC military action that 25 could precipitate a cross-Strait conflict.

1 (C) Enhancing co-development and co-de-
2 ployment of military capabilities related to de-3 terrence over a cross-Strait conflict, or enhanc-
4 ing coordinated training of Taiwan's military 5 forces.

6 (4) Recommendations on significant additional 7 diplomatic, economic, and military steps available to 8 the U.S. Government, unilaterally and in concert
9 with U.S. allies and partners, to enhance the clarity
10 and credibility of deterrence over a cross-Strait con-11 flict.

12 (5) A description of any additional resources or 13 authorities needed to implement the recommenda-
14 tions identified in paragraph (5).

15 (c) FORM OF REPORT.—The strategy required in 16 subsection (b) shall be classified, but it may include an
